Inaugural Exercises in the Prese of an Immense Crowd.

S. Holden—Mr. Davis's Inaugural Ad-dress—A Strang Plea in Behalf of College Education.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—[Special.]

Horace Davis was inaugurated president of the University of California this afternoon.

The expension which were held at Rayka. The ceremonies, which were held at Berkeley, in the Harmon Gymnasium, and, in connection with the charter day celebration every prominent educator in the State were present, and the large gymnasium hall capable of seating over 2000 persons, was packed to its utmost capacity. President Davis received a hearty welcome from the students and citizens. The exercises of the day began at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. At that hour the students' battalion of cadets assembled at the north hall of the university and marched to the campus, where the Governor and staff reviewed them. PRESIDENT DAVIS'S ADDRESS.

President Davis made a long address, pleading in behalf of college education. He President Davis made a long address, pleading in behalf of college education. He deprecated the spirit many parents manifested in allowing their sons to graduate from the public school direct to the counting-room. No matter what employment was intended for the youth, they will make stronger and better men with a generous education. The capital laid up in their brains is their own, and no financial disaster. no panic in business can rob them of it. Perhaps the counting-room makes a better clerk at 25, but the university will make a broad-guage citizen at 40. He dwelt upon the objections urged to classical training, and then referred with pleasure to the fact that higher institutions of learning are now open to women equally with men. He believed this leaven would silently work through the whole community, giving a higher tone to society, and exercising a benign influence even upon public affairs. He closed with an appeal for support from the students and graduates of the University, the regents and faculty, and from the citizens at large.

Auditor Hewitt Implicated in Treas-urer Tate's Defalcation. FRANKFORT (Ky.), March 23.—[By Asso-lated Press.] This morning the two

I esolution was adopted directing the committee to call upon Gov. Buckner and ask of him that he stop Auditor Hewitt free taking further part in the investigation of Treasurer Tate's affairs and the status of the Treasury. This was done, and the Governor promised the committee that the Auditor should be kept from the Treasurer's office. There was no hesitation on the part of the assembled legislators in declaring that Auditor Hewitt's action has impeded investigation of Treasurer Tate's accounts, and some went so far as to implicate the Auditor in the defalcation. It was the almost unanimous opinion of the caucus that the investigation will develop more rotteness than has yet seen the tight.

THE STEIN'S PASS HOBBERS.

The Story of the Hilling Told by Ex-Sheriff Paul.

Et. Paso, March 32.—[By the Associated Hress.] Ex-Sheriff Paul of Arizons, one of the party who killed the Stein's Pass trainrobbers, near Chihunhus, arrived today and tells the story of the killing. He says, when the robbers were surrounded, they barricaded themselves in the house and compelled the family to remain. A charge was made on the house, and a Mexican sergeant was killed. The posse cut a hole in the wall and let out the family. They then set the building on fire. The robbers came out firing. Hart was shot dead in the doorway. Sheehan was shot in the neck, and retreated into the building. J. Johnson continued advancing till he fell riddled with builets. He raised himself and fired another shot before he died. Sheehan was found sitting upright in the house dead with his clothes burned off. Six hundred dollars and some jewels were recovered. The Sheriff thinks the robbers burned their booty in the building. He says Marshal Meade's arrest probably saved his life, as he had been ambushed.

Gen. Pair's Hemains.

New York, March 23.—Early this morning a number of people visited the City Hall to view the casket containing the remains of Gen. Pair, the Venezuelan patriot, now lying in state there. This evening the body will be taken to the Twelfth Regiment Armory. Tomorrow it will be taken on board the United States sloop Pensacols, whice will convey it to Venezuela.

One of the Jail Birds.

VISALIA, March 23.—Sheriff Parker returned from the mountains this morning with the body of the man shot by Gus Anderson, who mistook him for a mountain lion. He was identified as Frank Bollinger, one of the jail-breakers. Arnold, his companion, left in charge of the body, escaped. The Coroner's jury exonerated Anderson.

man and taken into Ellis & Co.'s drugstore and restored to consciousness. An examination disclosed only a slight cut on the side of his face and no fracture of the skull. It is believed he escaped without receiving any internal injury to his head. When his mind became clear and he was able to express himself he acknowledged being somewhat drunk, but would not tell his name or any particulars about himself.

THE BRADY CASE.

The Brady investigation was set for 3 o'clock. When that hour arrived Mr. Brady and his attorney, Mr. Stephens, were on hand. The Mayor explained that he was anxious to have the investi, ation completed, but that there were only two members of the board present who were also present at the meeting on Tuesday and heard that pertion of the testimony, and he deemed it advisable to postpone further investigation until the next meeting. The defendants were anxious, however, to go on, and the board consented.

were anxious however, to go on, and the board consented.

Dr. Hagan took the stand and offered in rebuttal to Brady's testimony that he was at times without food, a register which the ductor had kept of all patients in the pesthouse, the number of days they remained there, and the amount of food which was furnished. Also to disprove Brady's statement that he did not have sufficient help at the pesthouse.

The register showed that at all times when as many as two patients were in the the dance of four and a half persons a day during a period of sixty days.

Dr. Hagan then asked that the City Clerk produce the grocery bills covering that time. His request was granted, and while the books were being procured he was cross-the books ing procured he was cross examined by Mr. Stephens.

Mr. Stephens asked the Doctor if he considered two nurses a competent number to take care of two patients who required attention day and night. Dr. Hagan replied that he did not. He was then asked if he tention day an inflat. Dr. Inagai replicate that he did not. He was then asked if he did not know that Mr. Brady was sick at the pesthouse at one time when he was alone with two patients. The answer was out his notes.

Mr. Dunn then said that the bills were and the bills were useless without a clear statement from Mr. Brady as to time, and again suggested that an adjournment be taken to allow other witnesses to be summoned, and to give Mr. Brady a chance to get his notes.

The suggestion was followed, and it was moved and carried to adjourn until Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

M. W. Connor of this city has received the following letter from J. H. Bruce, one of the directors of the Board of Trade of adopted by Frank Bartlett Post:

"WHEELAS. The post learned of the sad and sudden affliction of our comrade, Vice-Commander J. S. Buskirk;

"Resolved, that the innermost sympathy of our hearts goes out in all of its fullness to him in his great sorrow. But he may feel and realize, that though his heart be torn and bleeding by an unlooked for calamity, there is a responsive throb of grief in the hearts of every comrade of Frank Bartlett Corps.

"Resolved, that a copy of these resolu-tions be presented to our beloved courade, and that they be spread in the memoranda upon our records."

Creighton, Neb.:

"I am here to sell my property, and can get about what it is worth, if I take horses and cows for pay. I wish to ask if you think a few carloads of 'horses and cows would sell in Los Angeles, and at about what prices fair driving horses would bring. Will you also ask some of the milkmen what price they would pay for new milk cows. Any information you could give me would be thankfully received.

"Truly yours, J. H. BRUCE.

EGULAR MEETING OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH. Standstill – Some Queer Testi-mony-The Smallpox Hospital-After Doctors Who Won't Report. mitted an assault with intent to commit The Board of Health was called to order resterday afternoon with Mayor Workman in the chair. Minutes were read and ap-ness the Chair read the following commu-nications, the first from the patients of the County Hospital, and the second from Mrs. Cates, wife of ex-Mayor of Little Rock,

THE BRADY CASE.

"We, the undersigned patients in the smallpox hospital, hereby state for the benefit of whoever it may concern that we have no fault whatever to find with our treatment, and that we are well pleased with the attention shown us, which is all that we could ask or expect."

"Io the Press of Los Angeles: I wish to convey my thanks through the columns of your papers to Dr. Reese, Mayor Workman, Mr. McEvoy, Dr. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Keyes for their kindness to my baby and myself while in the hospital. The patients are all treated alike. All have plenty of fresh milk, eggs and butter, in fact they have anything they call tor. They rooms are clean, with plenty of fresh linen and warm blankets. I know the patients are care for better than they could be at home.

"They have day and night purses, and home.

"They have day and night nurses, and Dr. Thompson gives them his individual attention. He is working among them day and night. Mr. McEvoy is going and coming all the time. He devotes himself to his work.

"I fared the same as the others, and all I have to say is, if anyone, after leaving the hospital, complains, it is because they have never been accustomed to such good fare and treatment. The hospital certainly deserves a better name than 'pest house.'

"Again thanking these good people for their kindness, I remain, respectfully,"

"Mrs. CATES."

He also reported that the physicians were

"MRS. CATES."

He also reported that the physicians were dilatory in reporting contagious diseases, and the chief cause of the spread of disease was this neglect. He recommended that attention of the physicians be called to the ordinance covering such cases. On motion of Mr. Collins it was ordered that sections 1 and 4 of ordinance 207 A should be printed in the daily papers of the city for 10 days. The ordinance fixes a penalty upon physicians for failing to report contagious cases.

Complaints were brought before the board a cesspool in the street, from which the sewage was continually ozing, render-ing the locality very unhealthy. The health officer was ordered to take the matter in hand, and was given full power to act in hand, and was given full power to act in absting the nuisance.

An application from J. J. Rearden for a position at the County Hospital was read and referred to the Health Officer.

A proposition for removing all carcasses of dead animals from the city limits was made in writing by F. A. McNeal. He proposes to remove the bodies to ground of his own, outside of the city limits, within 12 hours after being notified of the death. A motion was made and carried to recommend to the Council the acceptance of the proposition.

On motion both communications were or-the treatment received by patients at the hospital.

The report of the Health Officer was received. He stated that everything was moving along smoothly at the hospital. During the week four patients had been discharged as cured and one had died. Four new patients had been received, fixing the number now in the hospital at 31. The best treatment was given patients and all were satisfied.

"Did you not," pursued Mr. Stephens, "Brown that Mr. Brady was treated for erysipelas after he came to town?" "No, sir." "Were you not told of it?" "I believe someone told me, but am not certain."

"I believe someone told me, but am not certain."

The Clerk arrived at this point with the bill books, and the grocer's bills were read. Before they were submitted as evidence, Assistant City Attorney Dunn came to his feet and said that the hour was late, some necessary witnesses were absent, and that he, himself, would like to have more time to look over the case and familiarize himself with it. Mr. Stephens made a strong objection, and the bills were again read and the investigation continued.

The bills showed that ample provisions were purchased at short intervals, and the conclusion was plain that if the goods were delivered when purchased, Mr. Brady could not have been without food as he stated.

Mr. Brady was asked to state at what particular time he was without food. He answered that he was unable to do so without bis notes.

Resolutions of Sympathy. The following resolutions hadopted by Frank Bartlett Post:

People against J. P. Rivera, charged with manslaughter. Attorney Joy first addressed the jury, and was followed by Henry T. Gaze, Esq., who made a powerful appeal on behalf of the defendant. Deputy District Attorney Harrison closed on behalf of the State, after which the Court considerately deferred committing the jury to the charge of the Sheriff to consider their verdict until this morning, as the usual hour for adjournment had arrived.

Two Men Quarrel Over Cattle and Fight-Before a Jury The case of the People against Frank Nailor came up for that yesterday in Judge Cheney's department of the Superior Court. The defendant is charged with having commurder upon Martin Urtasso, in the neigh-borhood of Newhall, last January. Pre-vious to the time of the assault the two men, who were close neighbors, were friends; but the difficulty arose from cer-tain cattle, in which Nailor had an indirect interest, inasmuch as he cared for them for the owner, straying over the land and des-martin Urtasso, the complaining witness in the case, testified on taking the stand; I reside close to Newhall, or about 12 miles away. I have known the defendant for about two years, and he is the man who on the 4th of January committed an assault upon me. I lived on section 9, and he coupled section 8, adjoining. The trouble happened between 2 and 3 o'clock into the afternoon. I found some cows on the 30th of December pasturing on my ground, and I went and asked Nailor why he allowed them to stay. After dinner on the 4th my wife and myself went after the cows, and found cattle tracks all tround the house. I drove them uside a corrai that no one was occupying, and had just done so when defendant came up and uponed the gate, and in answer to my inquiry said he was going to drive them back toward his ranch. I remonstrated with him, but he persisted, and took a stone and threw it at me. It struck me behind the ear and almost felled me to the ground. Hetook another stone which struck me on ribs. The rocks were not very large, but being thrown with force I was knocked down. The blows I received were so severe that I yet bear the marks and feel the pain in my side almost all the time. I was obliged to call in the doctor at Newhall I for medical attendance, and since then have been taking medicine but am not yet thoroughly well. Whenever there is a fog I cannot work at all. The cattle were woned by a Switzer named Myers, and I don't know if Nailor had charge of them or not.

Cross-examined: It is true that he told me to get out of the way before he com-on't know if Natior had charge of them of not.

Cross-examined: It is true that he told.

menced to throw the stones, but I told him I would not move.
Dr. D. Wood Baughman then took the stand and testfied: I am a practising physician at Newhall and was called by Mr. Urtasso in January last to attend him. He came to me at Newhall and on examination I found one of the left ribs broken. A fall might have caused the injury, or it might have been caused by the throwing of a stone with force. Such an injury takes some time to heal, and the pain is renerally long continued. If I remember rightly he also drew my attention to a wound on his long continued. If I remember rightly he also drew my attention to a wound on his head, one also on his finger.

Mrs. Urtasso testified: I am the wife of the complaining witness and am acquainted with the defendant. On the 6th of January my husband drove some cows over onto the Government land, when Frank Nailor interferent said to didn't want them.

my husband drove some cows over onto the Government land, when Frank Nailor interfered and said he didn't want them on his place, to which my husband replied that he didn't want them round his place either. My husband said: "Well, this is Government land, anyway, for you have said so yourself." Nailor refused to let them stay there, and he said he would drive them off. Witness then proceeded to detail the facts regarding the assault as given by the previous witness.

The prosecution having rested their case, the defense put forward several witnesses to combat the testimony offered on behalf of the People. Among others the defendant, Frank Nailor, mounted the witness stand, and, without disguise or circumlocution, gave an apparently straightforward account of the trouble on the 4th of January. He did not deny that he had thrown the rocks, and thrown them with the intention of hitting witness, but he explained that he did so because he was frightened of witness and the threatening attitude he had assumed.

The further hearing of the case was con-assumed.

The further hearing of the case was continued until today.

THE SECOND GRAND EXCURSION

Will Leave the Commercial-street Station at 10:30 a.m., Saturday, March 31, 1888.

Only 20 minutes' ride to Burbank. Returning, will reach Eos Angeles at 8:30 p.m.

There will be no anction sale and no one will be asked to purchase property. Our only object is to afford an opportunity to all to see Buroank and form their own opinion from a personal examination of its merits. In this lively competition for public favor among the growing towns of Southern California, the zealous (and sometimes jealous) advocate of his own town will detract from the merits of some rival locality that is pushing past him to the front. In this way some unfair statements have been put forth as to the merits of Burbank. So confident are we that a personal visis to Burbank will refute and silence all such statements, we have decided to run this pleasure excursion and invite every one to join us, spend a pleasant day, examine and decide for themselves. We have never had but one excursion, never employed a brass band nor had street parades; have offered no lottery schemes to temps purchasers to invest. But, without any show or parade, we have in a few months sold over 900 town lots and 2000 acres of land adjoining, aggregating nearly $600,000. In less than ten months a grain field has been converted into a growing, prosperous town of over 250 bons fide inhabitants. Water, pure, clear and abundant, has been piped to every lot in the town. A 60-room hotel, a street car line one and a half miles in length completed and in operation, brick block erected, stores and bank building completed, a $7000 schoolhouse under contract, two churches in process of construction, a furniture manufactory to employ from 100 to 200 workmen and to be in operation by June 1st, and new dwellings being commenced every day, bespeak for Burbank a push and prosperity not surpassed by any tewn of its age in the State of California.

NOTE THE FACT: That Burbank is today the most properous suburb of Los Angeles; that Burbank will within 90 days have better and cheaper railroad communication with Los Angeles than any other suburban town; that Burbank will have the largest furniture factory on the Pacific Coast; that Burbank has the most perfect water system, the purest and a superabundance of water; that Burbank possesses a most equable climate, cool in summer and warm in winter; that Burbank is the Commercial center of one of the most fertile and fruitful valleys in Southern California; that Burbank is surrounded by a country that will grow all kinds of cereals and fruits, including oranges and lemons, olives and English walnuts; that the Ostrich Farm Motor Road will be completed to Burbank within 60 days.

We have several times of late called ttention to the injury which the present exorbitant price of lumber is ining upon Southern California. The great importance of the subject justiies our frequent recurrence to this

The wild speculative era in this section has passed. Those who own land are now planning to make improvements, and those who purchase do so for the purpose of building homes, stores or factories on their property. Such persons find themselves confronted by so large an expenditure in the shape of lumber bills that they are in many cases deterred from their undertakings. When they do build, they have to charge very high rents in order to zet even. The natural consequence is that very many desirable citizens are driven away from Southern California. It is at present difficult to find an empty house. When one can be se-cured, the rent is so high that it takes half a man's earnings to pay it. Such facts are noised abroad and deter many from coming hither

Our local lumber men claim that the fault does not lie with them. They say they have only a margin of about three dollars per thousand. If that is the case, it only shows that extortion is practiced by the lumber ring of of which are taking advantage of the mmense building boom in this section o bleed our people without mercy. Of course no representations of the dam-age done to Southern California would have any effect on these people. They would rather see us injured than not. What our people must do is to help

We are pleased to learn that a step in this direction is about to be made. A responsible syndicate has been formed in Los Angeles, who own their own timber lands up north, and will cut and ship their own lumber. They claim to be able to lay it down here at $18 a thousand feet. Should the give them a square deal, as will very ably happen, they intend to ship to San Diego and bring the lumber thence by rail.

This enterprise will have the sincere good wishes of all who are interested Southern California's prosperity. It should be made a very strong company financially, so as to be able to compete with the present powerful and later as had many a had many doubtedly be forthcoming in abundance, as every one who is interested in these warring elements in the progress of this section will be glad to take stock in such an enterprise in which are destined to rule the different nations. The world is leaning in that direction today, and Providence, in the great changes which He is making among imperial leaders is gradually preparing the way for it. Let Frederick III pass from the throne of Germany, and place his son William-"the firebrand of Europe"—upon it in-stead, and German liberals may yet gather strength sufficient to overth that military despotism which he would foster, and lead the people to look toward a more republican form of great restlessness. His condition on Tuesgovernment. The law of progress holds true with nations as with individuals, and progressive England, content with her virtuous Queen, may not ligate prince should he ascend the throne. The idea of popular government is becoming a familiar one among all civilized peoples. It forms a quiet undercurrent beneath the most powerful thrones. When it is strong enough this idea will rule, and there will be no sceptre powerful enough to overthrow it

THE New York Staats-Zeitung, the leading Democratic German newspaper, now urges the German people to accept high license. It tells its readers that the time has come when the German people must accept the inevitable, and prepare for restrictions on the liquor traffic, lest public sentiment become exasperated and demand recourse to severer measures.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE .- A Hole in the is practiced by the lumber ring of Northern California, the few members fun-loving crowd, even the Wednesday matinée, showing a good attendance, which speaks volumes for the play, according to the usual idea which denies to women a sense of humor, broad or fine. The play will be given today and tonight, and followed on Sunday night by the German company in Der Le Germann und Slin Pfegekind.

AT THE PAVILION. - Boccaccio AT THE PAVILION.—Boccaccio was given its first presentation here by the Pyke Opera Company. The story of the pretty opera revolves about the Florentine romancer in his handsome youth, when he "wrote but his own fascinating experiences," as he declares with his hand upon his heart; with his love for the angel in blue, the unknown daughter of the Duke, and around this pretty pair dance and sing the gay and light-hearted residents of the sunny city—the women who read their belowed but naughty poet's novels, and the men who vow vengeance upon him. Woven that high the background are a few sunny city—the women who loved have loved but naughty poet's novels, and the men who vow vengeance upon him. Woven into this light background are a few genuine native superstitions, aggregated in the person of an old grocer, and the follies and amours of a dissolute duke. The music is not equal to the occasion, there being but a pair of really good choruses and not many striking solos, but its action is vivid, its humor strong and the whole acceptable if not entirely admirable. Miss Winston as the "Florentine Poet" in the brilliant and graceful dress of the time, never looked more youthfully noble, and later as a "Mischievous Boy," had many a sly opportunity for the delicing hoydenishness which she and her never looked more youthfully noble, and later as a "Mischievous Boy," had many a sly opportunity for the day symptoms of acute brong in abund interested in n will be glad enterprise in n will be glad enterprise in interested in n will be glad enterprise in interested in interested in n will be glad enterprise in interested in interested in n will be glad enterprise in interested in interested in interested in n will be glad enterprise in interested in interest honor among the men. WASHINGTON, March 23.—[By the Asciated Press.] Chief Justice Waite died at his residence in this city at 6:10 o'clock this morning. The Chief Justice was in his usual health, though exhausted by his recent severe labors, until Saturday night, when on returning from Senator Hearst's, where, with his daughter, he attended a reception, he complained of a chill. This feeling passed off during the night, but he remained in bed throughout Sunday and until it was time for him to go to court on Monday. Suffering then from malaise and a vague indisposition, ne did not read the opinion in the telephone case, but sat through its reading. and then returned to opinion in the telephone case, but sat through its reading, and then returned to his home. He was wakeful Monday night, and on Tuesday morning SYMPTOMS OF ACUTE BRONCHITIS appeared, accompanied by insomnia and day was not alarming, but on Wedn day was not alarming, but on Wednesday circumscribed pneumonia showed itself. During Thursday night he was comfortable, and no particular alarm was felt, but at 6 o'clock this morning failure of the heart's action was observed, and he died in a few minutes. His daughter and son were with him when he died. Mrs. Waite left Washington for California about a week ago, and is supposed now to be in Los Angeles. Arrangements for the funeral have not as yet been made.

will be buried at toledo, o.

It is the intention of the members of the family to have the interment take place at Totedo, the old residence of the Unier Jus-tice, unless Mrs. Wate should signify a different desire. In case the interment takes place there, it is probable the remains will leave here on Wednesday or Thursday next for Ohio, the purpose being to have Mrs. Waite meet the funeral train at To-ledo on her return from California.

13 years. The immediate cause of his death, the Doctor said, was nervous failure of the action of the heart, and it came with such startling suddenness as to be absolutely appailing. There was not the vaguest symptoms of heart complications throughout his sickness. On Saturday night the Chief Justice attended the authors' reception given by Senator and Mrs. Hearst, but feeling slightly indisposed be left the house early. About half an hour after he arrived at home he was taken with a chill, and immediately retired. At 3 o'clock in the morning Dr. Winslow was called, and found the Chief Justice suffering from acute pain in the back. Later on he feit somewhat better, and rested quite comfortably. At this time he said to his physician, in a tone of inquiry, that he must attend court on Monday, but was cautioned to

JUDGE WAITE'S APPOINTMENT.

One of the Striking Episodes of the Grant Administration.
WASHINGTON, March 23.—[By the Associated Press.] The circumstances of Judge Waite's appointment and confirmation are still fresh in the public mind, and formed a striking episode at the time. President of the Chief Justice Waite's probable successively, Attorney-general Williams and Caleb Cushing, both of whom encountered much opposition, and after a time their names were withing and the president would not go west of the Albedge manner's warm personal friends, and had been an independent Republican candidate for Congress against one of Mr. Summer's warm personal friends, and had summ relations toward the Grant administration. The proceedings of the Senate, though more than a dozen years have since elapsed, are still covered by the veil of executive secrecy, yet it is well known that Sunner's speech in opposition to Waite was one of the secrecy, yet it is well known that Sumner's speech in opposition to Waite was one of the strongest efforts of that remarkable man's life. He dwelt historically on the eminent services and attainments of each one in the long line of incumbents of the office of Chief Justice, and spoke in bitter terms of disparagement of Mr. Waite's qualifications. Sixty-three Senators were present and listened for two hours with respectful attention to the Senator from Massachusetts. No voice was raised in defense of the nominee, yet when the question of confirmation came to a vote 62 Senators voted in the affirmative, and Sumner did not vote at all. How far astray Mr. Waite's opponents were in their estimate of his character and attainments is strikingly displayed in the sentiments expressed by public men who have Known him.

Stanford said: "He was a man terday by Mr. Morrison R. Waite is vacant today. It is second in dignity to none in the whole civilized world. It has been occapied by him for many years with ability and industry and a disposition to discharge his whole duty in such a way that today the whole Nation is in mourning for his decase. This is not a time for culogy, nor, in fact, for extended remarks, but for the purpose of exhibiting the fact that this house has respect for his memory. I sak the Clerk to read and the House to adopt the following resolutions:

"Resolved, that the House of Representatives has heard of the death of Chief Justice Waite, of the Supreme Court of the United States, which occurred this morning, with feelings of deep and sincere sorrow.

"Resolved, that while the Nation monra calamity."

Senator Stanford said: "He was a mage of perfect integrity and great ability. His loss will be felt by the entire country, and it will be difficult to fill his place."

Senator Hiscock said: "He was, as a jurist, careful and painstaking. His private life was unbienished, and his social qualities very charming. His appointment was a surprise to the country, but his services have abundantly justified the selection."

Senator Sherman, who had just arrived from New York, when seen tonight, said: "I heard of the death of Chief Justice Waite in New York this forenoon, and received it with profound sorrow. I have known the Chief Justice for nearly 40 years as a man of the highest character, probity and honor, a lawyer of great experience and ability, and a citizen of the highest rank in every relation of life. I have mothing more to say, except that I feel that the country has lost a great Chief Justice, whose place, I fear, cannot be easily filled."

Senator Edmithds, chairman of the Judiciary Committee and a warm personal friend of the late Chief Justice, said: "My first acquaintance with Mr. Waite was when he was named one of the Geneva arbitrators about the year 1871 or 1872. He came on to Washington a practicing lawyer of no national, but of a fair State reputation. The The First O that can be said against him, and there is everything to say for him in all respects that make the just and upright judge, the honorable, kindly and Christian citizen."

Southern Senators were particularly kindly in their expressions of regard for Justice Waite in all respects. AMONG MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE expressions of regret were general. T expressions of regret were general. There was a disinclination to say anything upon the subject of a successor to the late Chief Justice, and the only expressions of opinion touching upon the matter came from a few Southern members, who suggested that Speaker Carlisle is eminently fitted for a position on the Supreme Bench, and that it would not be unacceptableto him.

Judge Kelly said: "I have known Chief Justice Waite from the day when he first came to the city to fill, the honorable position he occupied, and had head here."

THE OHIO DELEGATION. Shortly after the adjournment of the House today the Ohio delegation held a meeting in the room of the Commission on Banking and Currency to take appropriate action on the death of Chief Justice Waite. There were also present at the meeting S. S. Cox of New York and Judge Jones of Delaware, an old friend of the Chief Justice, both of whom made addresses on the sad event, which had brought them together. A committee to prepare suitable resolutions commemorative of the Chief Justice was appointed.

Washington, March 22.—[By the Associated Press.] The House Committee on Manufactures resumed the investigation of the sugar trust this morning and Claus Spreckels of San Francisco was examined. There were two refineries in operation on the Pacific coast, the witness said, the American refinery with a capacity of 500,000 or 600,000 pounds daily, and the witness's refinery, with a capacity of 1,200,000 pounds of raw sugar. This year, for the witness's refinery, about 4000 tons, or one-third of the annual crop, came from Hawaii; 4000 or 5000 tons from the Phillippine Islands, and about 10,000 tons from Central America. The price of raw sugar from Hawaii was formerly fixed by the price in Manilia, Phillippine Islands, but for the last three years it had been regulated by the New York markets. Mme. he consequently discharged Flowerhill. The police had been informed as to how matters were going, and it having come to their knowledge that Flowerhill was about to remove three bulky trunks from the hospital it was thought that it would be a good plan to overhaul them before they were removed. Three trunks of large size are capable of holding far more clothing than the average hospital attendant either needs or desires. As a consequence Detective Marsh yesterday seized the trunks, and was rewarded by finding them well filled with purioined spoil. He at once brought Flower hill to the central station and preferred against him a charge of grand larceny. The unnatural fiend was locked up and will most likely get a long term in State's Prison. This is the second important arrest made by Chief Cuddy's detectives during the past few days, and goes to prove that the police force is much better organized now than ever before. If the Council would give the Chief 100 patrolmen and five detectives, the detectives to get a slary of from $125 to $150 per month, Mr. Cuddy is confident that he would soon be able to make this the best behaved city in the world. The force is so small now that the distant portions of the city are not properly guarded.

AN OLD MOREMON.

A Son of Joseph Smith in This City.

A Times reporter yesterday called at the residence of F. P. Schnell, 119 North Bunker Hill avenue, and interviewed Joseph Smith of the Reorganized Mormon Church.

The present Joseph Smith is the oldest son of Joseph Smith, the Prophet, and was born at Kirtland, Lake county, O., on November 6, 1832. Mr. Smith has been a member of the Church of Jesus Christ, as founded by his father, on April 6, 1830, up to the present time, and is now president of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ, with headquarters at Lamonl, Iowa. The reorganized Church of Jesus Christ, with headquarters at Lamonl, Iowa. The reorganized Church is in contradistinction to the Brighamite Church in Utan, and is anti-polygamic, and believes that a man should have but one wife at a time, and holds that there is but one sufficient cause for divorce—marital unfaithfulness. This raile of marriage obtained in the church from 1835 to the death of Joseph Smith, in 1844, as shown by their published creed.

Mr. Smith here produced a book of "Doctrine and Covenants," printed at Nauvoo, Ill., in 1846, by John Taylor, decased, late president of the Utah church, in which the one-wife doctrine is clearly declared in the following language:

"We pelieve that one man should have one wife and one woman but one husband of covering and c * AN OLD MORMON. year, for the witness's refinery, about 400 tons, or one-third of the annual crop, came from Hawaii; 400 or 500 tons from the foundation of Jesus Christ, as founded by his father, on April 6, 1850, upon the Indiana, and about 10,000 tons from the Philliphe Islands, but for the last three years it had been regulated by the New York markets. In Department 1 of the Superior Court the cause of the People, against Charles Cavanagh was called. The defendant was accused of having burglarized the Southern Hotel baggage-room, on San Fernando street, on the 4th of January last, and carried off a quantity of wearing apparel. Cavanagh, as he appeared in court, presented a most pittable spectacle. His fers have both been cut off at the knee, and it is with some difficulty that he can walk at all. The case presented no features of especial interest, and on being considered by the jury they quickly returned a verdict of burglary in the second degree.

In a few days everything will be ready for selection of the subscribed lots. Price lists and a list showing the order of selection which each subscriber holds will be furnished.

Only a portion of the property will be placed upon the market. This will be sold to subscribers at first prices, which will be increased from time to time, as the work of constructing the hotel, piers and other improvements progress.

The Santa Fe Company has completed the grade from Inglewood to Redondo Beach, and the road will be completed in a let days. The material for the large wharf has arrived at the beach and a large force of men is there ready to commence its construction

Work on the large hotel was commenced three weeks ago. The public should bear in mind that only a limited amount property is to be sold at this time at the prices to be fixed, and this amount is nearly subscribed for. Persons desiring lots who names are not in the list should call and make their subscription. A great many of our prominent citizens are only waiting for 1 railroad to commence running, when they expect to begin the erection of handsome cottages.

LUNG DISEASES.

A word to the wise is sufficient. Dr. Sweany of Philadelphia has arranged to combine the new method (Bergeon's) sumption and all diseases of the lungs and respiratory tract with his own system, hypernutrition, which he has practiced so successfully in Philadelphia, where thousands can testify to the success of his treatment; and now by combining the two systems Dr. who are suffering with consumption asthma, dyspnoea, catarrh, blood poisons, etc., or any disease whatever of the respiratory organs, that "there is balm in Gilead." That with his mbined treatment he can cure any and all cases of consumption and lung

A FEW EXPLANATORY NOTES. The Burgeon treatment for congas into the rectum, where it is immediately taken up by the veius and passes through the venous circulation to the liver, from thence to the heart passes through the venous circulation to the liver, from thence to the heart and from thence to the lungs, passing all of this distance through the venous blood, and reaches the lungs in a state of purity, where it can be detected in from one to four minutes after its administration into the rectum. If this gaseous substance should have to pass through arterial blood its powerful effects on the diseased lung tissue would be destroyed by the oxygen contained in arterial blood. There is no oxygen in venous blood until it reaches the lungs, where it receives its charge of oxygen from the air drawn into the lungs during the act of breathing, after which it passes from the lungs into the arterial circulation through the system, and finally reaches the rectum and other distal points again converted into venous blood having given up its oxygen to the system. The difference between arterial blood and and venous blood is oxygen, the former being loaded with it and the latter being devoid of it. It is upon this fact above that Bergeon, the French physician, was able to make this method practicable; hence it is also that all of the inhalations are of little or no yalue because, in order to reach the lungs, inhalations must be exposed to oxygen in its passage from the mouth to the lungs through the m-dum of atmospheric air, which destroy their value.

Some persons who do not understand the anatomy and physiology of the human system would be at a loss to know how medicine placed into the rectum could act beneficially on the lung; but when they understand how the loss blood rushes from any and all parts of the body to the lungs to receive a new charge of oxygen, then they will readily understand how this parssiticide gas, introduced into the peripheral venous circulation (the rectum) is carried along with this blood directly to the lungs.

This method is easy of application and acts directly on the diseased lung tissue, killing the germ of the disease, after which the tubercles heal up, expectoration ceases, the lungs assume a natural and healthy condition, and after which the tubercies heal up, ex-pectoration ceases, the lungs assume a natural and heaithy condition, and all of the distressing symptoms of con-sumption soon disappear. This method practically brings the lungs to the ease, etc. Persons gain in actual weight while under this treatment from one-quarter to one pound per day, which means a great deal to a weak and debilitated person.

Which she can most effectively use in exterminating disease, etc. Persons gain in actual weight while under this treatment from one-quarter to one pound per day.

We could not expect of a body of carpenters to go out on a vacant let, build and construct a house without first having the material necessary to construct the house placed within their reach. Hence, how can we expect nature to reconstruct a debilitated and impoverished system without first having the necessary material to be used in the reconstruction placed within her reach. Dr. Sweany's system of hypernutrition places these materials within nature's reach, and the work goes on to a speedy and happy completion, for nature is, a skilled mechanic, a true and energetic workman, a preserver and friend to health.

Dr. Sweany has arranged to combine the two new and wonderfully successful methods, and appeals to all who may be suffering to seek relief where it may be had. The one method kills the germ of the disease, while the other goes to assist nature. What can be the result? Health, happiness and tong life.

How She Has Been Doing Up the Eating-houses.

The young lady who has been indulging in free meals at the expense of several of the prominent city hotels, not desiring, probably, to show partiality, has within the last day or two been extending her patronage to Koster's new restaurant. For the siret few meals she settled promptly, giving her name as Fitzgerald, but on Thursday at noon she falled to pay the cashier for what she ordered and walked out of the place. In the evening she teturned and displayed her usual good taste by ordering and consuming a dainty little $1.45 dinner. She was politely reminded of the fact that she had not settled her bill in the morning, but, undismayed, she fuished her meal, quietly took her creek and was about to leave the place, when she was stopped and asked for an explanation. She explained that she was rooming at 400 South Fort street and had forgotten her purse; she was contry, she would be happy to pay it if one of the clerks would accompany her home. A clerk accordingly escorted her to her room, but on their arrival there the fair "bille" allowed her secort to remain out side. For three-quarters of an hour the clerk kept solltary vigit, but no Miss Fitzgerald produced any soin. Getting tired somewhat, the clerk knocked at the door, which was opened by the woman, who, seeing her faithful attendant standing there, stammed the door in his face without saying a word. The clerk returned to report progress, and said that he noticed a large revolver lying upon a table in the room, and consequently he did not care to press the matter too far.

LEADVILLE CROOKS.

A Man and Woman Captured by Chief Cuddy.

T. Prendergrass and the woman who claims to be his wife are at last safe under lock and key, with every chance in their favor of being well cared for for some time to come. Some few facts were given in these columns yesterday regarding the record of this somewhat celebrated "crook," and the further knowledge gained prove him to be a man of a more thoroughly-bad reputation than was at first supposed.

During the mining excitement in Colorado he worked with the notorious "Doc" Baggs, and lived right royally on the product of his many swindling transactions. Since those days he has degenerated, and from the high estate of a first-class confidence man he has sunk to the station of an all-round crook, opium-fiend and short-card man.

found, in the snape stamps value at $15, a diamond cuff button, stamps value at $15, a diamond cuff button, two valuable watches, and numerous miscellaneous articles. The woman was thereupon escorted to the station, and, like her unlucky consort, locked up.

Yesterday morning Chief of Police Cuddy formally turned his prisoners over to the United States Marshal, and that officer at once took Prendergrass before United States once took Prendergrass before United States van Dyke, who, pending United States Marshal, and that officer at once took Prendergrass before United States Commissioner Van Dyke, who, pending arraignment, held him in $5000 bonds to appear next Tuesday morning for examination. In default he was remanded to the custody off the Marshal and taken back to jall. Meantime, "Mrs." Prendergrass secured the services of an attorney, and took out a writ of habeas corpus before the Superior Court and made returnable in the afternoon.

Upon Prendergrass and his wife (?) being brought before Judge O'Melveny on the writ of habeas corpus, it was discovered that ber ingenious move had been forstalled by the United States Marshal, who had served the necessary papers, making the writ of non-avail. It was not so, however, in the case of the lady. Attorney Appel called the Deputy Marshal to testify whether papers had been served upon the woman or not. He answered that some little delay having taken place he had been unable to serve them, but was waiting until she left the precincts of the court, when he intended to do so, as he at that time had them in his pocket. Thereupon Judge o'Melveny asked to see the papers, and having found them in order, he directed an immediate service upon Mrs. Prendergrass. This having been done, the Court prountly denied the writ, and the prisoners were remanded back to custody. Upon Prendergrass and his wife (?) being

COX'S SUICIDE.

A Bad Man Who Did Not Care to Live. Coroner Meredith yesterday morning went

A. V. Fox, Justice of the Peace, was the first witness sworn, and testified as follows:

Yesterday evening about 10 minutes past 7 I went to the jail to take deceased to his supper. I opened the door and called to him to come out, but he did not answer me. I called several times, calling him by name. I then struck some matches, but they went out. I then went away and got a light, and came back, and found the deceased hanging by a rope. The rope was tied around the bars of a window. I felt of him, and he was dead. I cut the body down. There has been no p rson locked up with the deceased in the jail during the past week. Yesterday morning when I took the deceased to his breakfast, I noticed he did not eat very much. He was always a very hearty eater. He appeared to be somewhat despondent.

hearty eater. He appeared to be somewhat despondent.

I do not know how the deceased got the rope. The children are in the habit of giving the prisoners fruit by cutting it up and putting the pieces through the window. When I cut the deceased down from where he was hanging, there was a hay pillow, and on top of it was a small basket that I think he had climbed up on to tie the rope to the window, and also to jump off when he was ready to hang himself.

After completing the evidence the jury rendered the following verdict:

neighborhood of Santa Ana, and Mr. Messler, who is a real-estate agent, engaged to put the tract on the market and "whoop" things up. Things didn't "whoop" as well as Mr. Robinson desired or expected, and when Mr. Messler desired payment for his services, some objections were raised. Mr. Messler claims $380 with costs of suit.

Messier claims $880 with costs of suit.

The case of Juro J. J. McKenna was set for hearing yesterday morning in Department 1 of the Superior Court, but upon Henry T. Gage, who appears for McKenna, requesting the Court to continue proceedings in the case until March 34th, as he was actively engaged in the trial of Rivera in Judge Gardiner's court, Judge Cheney granted a postponement until March 34th at 0.20 o'clock a m. It will be remembered. d a postponement until Marc clock a.m. It will be ren that McKenna, during the progress of the Bodkin trial, got Intoxicated and was un-able to act in his capacity as a juror, there-by causing several days delay.

A HARD GAME.

How He Did Up His Employer for Hard Cash. I. McMurray was before Justice Taney yesterday morning, charged with the masked to see me privately. He told me he wished to give himself up for a crime he had committed in Dakota. He said that he had had a fight with a man named Carver, and had since beard that Carver had died. He also gave me to understand that he had injured Carver in self-defense, and that he had been foolish to leave the Territory, and that he had had no peace of mind tory, and that he had had no peace of mind disince. I turned the deceased over to Mr.

Smythe, the Town Marshal. We telegraphed to the authorities of Lawrence county, Dokota, and a reply was received, stating that the deceased over to Mr.
Smythe, the Town Marshal of Anaheim, was next sworn, and testified: I reside in Anaheim, and am the Marshal, About a month ago Judge Fox brought: the deceased to me and told me that he wanted to give himself up for a crime he had committed back East. I took charge of the deceased to me and told me that he had beat a man over the head with a club the 12th of last November. He had engaged McMurray to take orders had engaged McMurray was bais duty to take the had engaged McMurray to take orders had engaged McMurray to the
had engaged McMurray to take orders
had engaged McMurray to take order customers were complaining of bad times, and that on that account they could not pay immediately.

Very soon Mr. de Mers came to the conclusion that if there was not some change he would have to drop the custom of a number of his customers, collect what he could, and carry the accounts of the balance to profit and loss. With this purpose in his mind be started off without the knowledge of McMurray to interview his delinquent customers, and see why payments had fallen behind and what arrangements could be made for a speedy liquidation. Greatly to his surprise he found that all accounts had been settled and receipted for by McMurray. A further investigation revealed the fact that McMurray was playing "high jinks" around the city with his ill-gotten gains, so Mr. de Mers, without any scruples of conscience, had him arrested.

The evidence substantiating the above facts, McMurray was held to answer the charge in the Superior Court.
